Vienna, April 19, 1799.

Particulars of the Battle of Oſterach, which took place on the 21ſt March between the Imperial Troops, under the Orders of the Archduke Charles, and the French Forces commanded by General Jourdan.

Information having been repeatedly received that the Enemy continued to make farther Progreſs in Suabia, and that they had driven back our Advanced Poſts and detached Corps, His Royal Highneſs determined to march againſt them.

On the 20th March, His Royal Highneſs was informed that the Enemy had attacked the whole Line of our Out Poſts along the Oſterach; that they had ſucceeded in driving them in on One Side; but that notwithſtanding the Inferiority of Numbers, our Troops had not only ſtopped their Progreſs, but had even repulſed them as far as Poſſtera. On the Side of Attchauſen the Enemy could penetrate no further than Hofzirchen, from whence they were ſhortly after diſlodged.

The Enemy had concentrated the greateſt Part of their Forces behind Oſterach, and placed their Advanced Guard on the Right Bank of the River of that Name.

His Royal Highneſs took the neceſſary Meaſures for attacking them on the following Day; during the Night, he divided his Troops into Three Columns; the Firſt was to march from Sulgau to Pfokenſtadt, the Second, under the Command of the Archduke, puſhed forward upon Kuſſen, and the Third from Atſchaufen to Ratzenreite; each Column had its Advanced Guard.

Early on the 21ſt, all our Advanced Guards attacked the Enemy, and were ſoon followed by the Columns, who charged the Enemy on all Sides. By the good Diſpoſition, and Bravery of our Troops the Enemy, in ſpite of their obſtinate Reſiſtance, were defeated and driven back every where. They retreated during the Night with great Precipitation to Stockach, where our Advanced Guard purſued them. The French General Ferino, who, with his Diviſion and that of General Aubi, had driven back one of our Brigades, finding himſelf by the Defeat of General Jourdan's Army obliged to make a Retreat, owed his Safety only to the extreme Expedition with which he effected it. We, however, made a great Number of Priſoners, and took Three Pieces of Cannon. The Loſs of the Enemy amounts to Five Thouſand Men. We have loſt Two Thouſand One Hundred and Sixty killed and wounded.

Supplement to the Battle of Tauffers and St. Marie, on the 4th of April.

We found at St. Marie a very conſiderable Magazine of Ammunition, containing more than Ninety Caſks filled with Cartridges and Powder.

Account of the Events of the 8th April.

Field-Marſhal Lieutenant Bellegarde ordered General Count Alraini to haraſs the Enemy by different Movements, in order to facilitate the Operations of the Army of Italy. He beat and drove back the Enemy wherever he met with them.—Having halted with his Corps before Rocca d'Anſo, he puſhed forward his Advanced Guard, and took Poſſeſſion of Bagalino.

Our Loſs in theſe different Actions is very inconſiderable compared to that of the Enemy. We took from them One Cannon, One Standard, and made many Priſoners.

Accounts are this Moment received that we are in Poſſeſſion of Rocca d'Anſo, and that the Enemy are retreating upon Veſtone and Breſcia.

SUPPLEMENT.

General Melas, who is arrived at the Army of Italy, has ſent Intelligence of the Enemy having retreated by Azola, behind Chieſa; that our Advanced Guards extend beyond the Mincio; that they are before Goito, and upon the Heights before La Volta and Monzanbano.—Peſchiera is already ſurrounded at a certain Diſtance, on the Side of Guave and Mazinirola. Our Patroles have advanced as far as the Citadel, without meeting with any of the Enemy's Picquets.

General Klainau has alſo inveſted Mantua on the Side of Molinella. That General has made himſelf Maſter of the Enemy's Poſt at Lago Sacro, and of Four Pieces of Cannon.

General Mellas informs us, that the People are every where very favourably diſpoſed, particularly in the Neighbourhood of Mantua; that our Troops are received in all Places with Shouts of Joy; that the Populace in general give evident Marks of their Attachment to the old Conſtitution, as well as of their Hatred to the French and a Democratical Government.
